MOTION NO. 6922

A MOTION defining intergovernmental cooperation between King County and Auburn for the development of the Enumclaw Community Plan, establishing King County as the jurisdiction primarily responsible for developing the community plan and providing Auburn with opportunities to advise King County during the community plan's development.

WHEREAS, within their own jurisdictions, King County and Auburn each has responsibility and authority derived from the Washington State Constitution and State laws to plan for and regulate uses of land and resultant environmental impacts, and by law must consider the impacts of governmental actions on adjacent jurisdictions, and

WHEREAS, King County and Auburn recognize that planning decisions can have extra-jurisdictional impacts and that intergovernmental cooperation is an effective way under existing law to deal with impacts and opportunities which spread across jurisdictional boundaries, and

WHEREAS, cooperative efforts can increase the efficiency of government by minimizing conflicts and providing more mutually satisfactory planning decisions, and

WHEREAS, King County Comprehensive Plan policies PI-302 through PI-305 and Auburn Comprehensive Plan policy 10.1.2. encourage interjurisdictional cooperation and the use of interlocal agreements to implement solutions to major planning issues, and

WHEREAS, King County is initiating the development of the Enumclaw Community Plan, and

WHEREAS, the Enumclaw Community Planning Area borders the City of Auburn;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT MOVED By the Council of King County:

A. The King County parks, planning and resources department, which is responsible for developing the Enumclaw Community Plan, should seek Auburn's participation in the planning process. Auburn's participation may include such actions as:

1. Serving on the Technical Advisory Committee;
2. Serving on the Citizen Advisory Committee;
3. Commenting on data, land use alternatives and, finally, the Draft Enumclaw Community Plan before it is submitted to the King County executive or county council;
