I. Background

The Office of the Assistant Attorney General, Office of Justice Programs (OJP), in coordination with the National Domestic Preparedness Office (NDPO), is providing funding to targeted jurisdictions for equipment purchases to enhance their capacity to respond to weapons of mass destruction and terrorist incidents involving the use of chemical or biological agents, radiological explosives, and incendiary devices. Authority to administer the grant program was delegated by the Attorney General to OJP, resulting in the Fiscal Year (FY) 1999 County and Municipal Agency Domestic Preparedness Equipment Support Program, which provides funding to the Nation's largest 157 metropolitan jurisdictions and includes both cities and counties.

II. Scope of the FY 1999 County and Municipal Agency Domestic Preparedness Equipment Support Program

A. Authorized Program Purpose

Funding is authorized by Public Law 105-119; the U.S. Departments of Commerce, Justice, and State; the Judiciary; and related Agencies Appropriations Act of 1999. As a part of the Office of Justice Programs' first responder domestic preparedness initiative, the Conference Report (H.R. 1141, H. Rept. 106-143) accompanying the U.S. Department of Justice's (DOJ's) Fiscal Year 1999 Emergency Supplemental Appropriations Act provides funding to assist State and local first responders in becoming properly equipped and trained to respond to incidents of domestic terrorism involving chemical and biological agents, as well as radiological explosives and incendiary devices. Pursuant to the Conference Report language, the Office of Justice Programs will distribute FY 1999 funding to provide the maximum number of communities with a basic defensive capability to respond to domestic terrorism incidents. Grant funds will be available to the Nation's 157 largest jurisdictions, as well as to the 50 States under a separate grant program. Grant applications submitted under this program must reflect the jurisdiction's prioritized equipment needs for fire services, emergency medical services, hazardous materials response units, and law enforcement agencies operating within the eligible jurisdictions.

B. Unauthorized Program Expenditures

Funds for this program may be used to enhance the capabilities of first responders through the acquisition of personal protective; chemical, biological, and radiological detection; and communications equipment in accordance with Appendix D, the FY 1999 Authorized Equipment Purchase List. Training in the use of the equipment purchased may be obtained through the equipment manufacturers or the Office for State and Local Domestic Preparedness Support (OSLDPS). Expenditures for equipment such as vehicles and trailers, general-use laptop computers, computer monitors and printers, and video-monitoring equipment, as well as arms and ammunition, are not allowable under this grant.

III. Eligible Applicants and Funding Availability

Eligible applicants are the chief executive officers (CEOs) in the cities and counties listed on the following pages. However, if the county or municipal government is not responsible for the fire services, emergency medical services, hazardous materials response units, and/or law enforcement agencies in its jurisdiction, then the appropriate State or local agency that provides that service must be consulted in the development of the application. All eligible applicants are grouped by a population index based on 1992 census data. Specific funding allocations for each group are provided on the following pages.

Certain county jurisdictions may not provide any qualifying services or have authority to apply for this program. In those instances, an appropriate State- or municipal-level agency must apply on behalf of the jurisdictions within the county. If your county falls into this category, please contact OJP at 202-305-9887 for guidance in meeting the application requirements.
