To all King County employees and consultants:

In March 2007, King County officially changed its logo to an original graphic image of the county's namesake, Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. The new logo, like the former logo (gold crown) will be used according to the standards laid out in the King County Identity Program. The identity program was adopted in January 2002 by the Executive Branch with the goal of promoting greater visual recognition of King County government and its services and to ensure visual consistency and clarity.*

This guide has been updated with the new King County logo, an original graphic image of the county's namesake, Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. This guide was prepared in consultation with the county departments and user groups. This update was made as part of the contract to create the new logo.

Staff and consultants for all Executive branch departments, the Council and separately electeds who use the King County logo must follow these guidelines and standards for any business materials, facilities and equipment, including capital programs. It is the responsibility of county project managers to ensure this.

The King County Identity Program provides these Graphic Standards and Guidelines to promote a greater visual consistency, clarity and recognition of King County government to its residents, employees, businesses and other governments. Coordinated efforts to comply with these guidelines will achieve that goal.

To further ensure that these standards are adhered to, Executive Ordinance #ACO-8-16 (AEO) requires all graphic design and print work to go through King County Design and Production Services.

The information contained in these guidelines applies to all materials produced by, for and with King County.

*Because the county is committed to a low-cost transition to the new logo, both the old crown logo and the new MLK logo will be seen on county materials, equipment and structures over the five year transition period. Additionally, other branches of King County government with separately elected leaders such as district court and superior court use logos other than the King County logo.

Note: At times, incorrect use of the King County logo will appear within these guidelines, but is done so only for display, illustrative and educational purposes.

What are the required “official” type fonts for county-wide use?

The Arial family (or Helvetica) and the Times family are the only approved type fonts that are to be used for day-to-day printed communications. These basic type fonts, along with their bold and italic variants, were selected for their versatility and appropriateness in representing King County. They are universally available in almost all software and operating systems.

Arial is a simple, contemporary, sans serif type font that is particularly suited for shorter passages of print in body copy and can be used as a headline with Arial and Times body copy. It is well suited for electronic media such as web sites. This type is highly readable and accessible, and for this reason, is preferred for county-wide use.

Times is a functional, elegant type font that has been in wide use prior to the new graphic guidelines. Because it is less readable, especially in italic, it is recommended as a second choice. It can be used to match existing documents and used more successfully in larger point sizes.

Important!

The type font Verdana is not a required general use font for printed communications. It is an integral part of the King County branding system and used for the printing of county letterhead, business cards and envelopes. It is also used for agency descriptions (department, division, program names) that are combined with the new King County logo. Because of its high readability on screen, this font can be used for both county internet and intranet applications.

On what types of county-wide communications will these fonts be required?

These type fonts should be used on both printed and electronic communications. Printed business communications such as letters, faxes, news releases, etc. and King County internet and intranet sites should be a prime user of these fonts.

Highly designed promotional and informational publications generally have a wider range of type font possibilities based on subject matter, audience and design preferences. Brochures, reports, manuals, newsletters, etc. fall into this category. Readability and accessibility should be a major consideration in choosing fonts for these pieces.

*Accessibility...
Equally effective communication of information to all audiences and age groups, but specifically related to the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990, where King County is required to ensure equally effective communication to all individuals served, including qualified individuals with disabilities.*

King County has a demonstrated commitment to ensure that everyone it serves has equal access to and opportunity to benefit from its programs and services, including people with disabilities. In addition, King County must comply with federal, state and local disability access laws. Part of King County's programs and services is the information it provides in printed materials. By following these guidelines, you will help ensure your publications meet legal requirements and be accessible to most people with disabilities, but also provide greater readability for those with English as a second language.

Access Notices

Here are situations where these notices are legally required to appear. They should be in a sans serif font, 14 point or larger type.*

- All publications written for the public (programs and services brochures, flyers, reports, etc.) – A notice that the publication is available in alternate formats upon request. This notice should include a contact telephone number and TTY number.
- Publications that outline county services, programs or activities in which the public participates – A notice that reasonable accommodations will be provided upon request. The notice should include a contact telephone number and TTY number.
- Publications concerning a public meeting, hearing or event – A notice that the meeting/event location is accessible (check to ensure facility meets access codes).

Please see the Office of Civil Rights resources section below for optional wording of required notices.*

Disability access laws do not include specifications for printed materials, allowing for flexibility; however, governmental and disability organizations sources have developed guidelines to help ensure compliance with the intent of the law.

Font And Text

- Style: use sans serif fonts such as Arial and Helvetica and limit use of ornate fonts. Times New Roman and other serif fonts may be more difficult for some to read.
- Size: 12 point type or larger (Large print size: 14 point or larger upon request).
- Non-standard Type: Use bold, underlining or italics only for emphasis or headers. Use all-caps sparingly.

- Background Images: Generally, none; if used, be sure images do not obscure text. It is helpful to put contrasting “shadow” (positive or negative) directly under the text to increase contrast.
- Shading Behind Text: Acceptable, but be sure to achieve adequate text-to-background contrast.
- Text Around Images: If text is wrapped around an image, it is better to put the image to the right of the text, so there is a consistent margin at the left for easier “tracking.”

Paragraph

- Style: Block style (one line between paragraphs) or indented first line.
- Line Width: Single column not exceeding 6 inches; multiple columns at least 3 inches wide.
- Justification/Alignment: Left alignment or limited justification (Large print: left alignment only)
- Hyphenation: None or limited.
- Leading: Sufficient spacing between lines of print so lines are not crowded.

Paper and Printing

- Color Contrast: Good contrast between print and background color; avoid dark or intense color paper (such as neon) or colors that are the same as or similar to ink color used.
- Paper Finish: Matte (dull, not shiny, as glare can make a publication unreadable by some).
- Double-sided Copies: One-sided copying recommended for large print, unless heavy-weight paper is used.

Telephone and TTY Numbers*

- Hyphens: Use hyphens only (no parentheses around area code).
- TTY number: If no in-house TTY number, use “TTY Relay: 711.”

 Use TTY (not TDD) for Text Telephone (see “TTY is the Acronym for Text Telephone - But Why?” at <http://kcweb.metrokc.gov/dias/ocre/ttyhistory.htm>).*

Any caller may dial 711 nationwide to be connected to the nearest TTY Relay Service.

(Other image formats converted into EPS usually do not have the same scalable characteristics...please use the EPS logo provided rather than converting from something else). • Generally speaking, do not use this format if your final document will be eventually converted to an Acrobat PDF file! One exception would be: ArcView users using EPS logos and postscript printers should be able to use EPS logos with good results. (Reducing the logo is fine but enlarging it makes it fuzzy.) Three resolutions are provided: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Small for report covers, letter-size maps, etc. where logo is no larger than two (2) inches. Medium for posters or wall maps where logo is no larger than four (4) inches. Large for large graphics (banners, podium signs, etc.) where logo is no larger than twelve (12) inches. If you need a different size, call King County Graphics at 206.205-8550. • If a PDF is not required, and a reasonable file size needs to be maintained, as well as the highest quality desired; then an EPS format would be a better choice.
EMF KCh_AC.emf KCh_v_AC.emf 	ArcMap 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Excellent format for general ArcMap use. This vector format can be enlarged without distortion and has no background color.
GIF KCh_w_gif KCh_b_gif KCh_v_w_gif KCh_v_b_gif 	Web applications 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Use on web pages. Background is transparent, small file size. This format is only for web use...do not use in other applications, especially if the file will be converted to PDF!

*PDF files created on a Macintosh and viewed on a PC or vice versa will often behave quite differently...displaying the same logo clearly on one system and blocky on the other. This is especially true when the original document is in Microsoft Word. Generally, TIFF logos have the most consistent results across platforms (for all but web or CAD work).

How can I avoid common mistakes when using electronic files?

- Choosing the correct TIFF logo size for your project avoids having to enlarge the logo. (Reducing a TIFF file is fine, but enlarging it makes it fuzzy.) Three basic sizes are provided. It is important to maintain this aspect ratio when resizing the logo so it doesn't appear distorted.
- Do not convert one format (EPS) into another format (TIFF).
- Do not try to open logo files directly as it may damage the file. Place, insert, or import the file directly into your application. Consult your program manual or your local network person for instructions.
- Check for distortion of the logo after it is placed into your document. A squeezed or stretched appearing logo is not acceptable. Setting your program controls correctly before inserting the logo can avoid this distortion.
- A fuzzy logo is not acceptable. This may have occurred because the incorrect file format type was used with your program.

Stacked and Horizontal Logo

Smallest Size

Smallest Size

The Logo

The King County logo is an original graphic image of the Reverend Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. on a black rectangular background locked up with the text "King County." The image and text are combined to form two fixed arrangements, the stacked and the horizontal logo.

The stacked logo (a) is designed for applications where a more formal and traditional arrangement is desired, such as used in the county's business communications (business cards, letterhead, memo, envelopes, note pads and vehicle identification). This arrangement is generally the "first choice" when representing King County. In addition, the stacked logo is designed for applications in which horizontal space is limited or a vertical alignment is desired.

The horizontal logo (b) is designed for horizontal configurations where vertical space is limited and where readability at small scale is an issue. This configuration readily lends itself to the blending of agency information below the logo.

Correct Use

The King County logo must never be altered, redrawn or reproduced from secondary copies. The logo must always be reproduced from authorized electronic files or authorized reproduction-quality originals. The logo should not be rearranged, rotated, animated, etc. (See page 2.2 for examples of incorrect uses).

Both the stacked and horizontal King County logo must be isolated from other elements. A distance measuring at least one and one half letter "K" heights in all directions creates a neutral zone separating the logo from competing elements such as type, illustrations, graphic elements or other symbols or logos. Please see appropriate section for blending type with both stacked and horizontal logos.

The logo should not be placed inside any other shape, such as an oval or square, combined with other symbols or graphic, or used within text or headlines. However, it may be placed in a band at the top of the publication or web page, provided that the band meets the specifications for clear space and stretches across the entire width of the page. The band serves as a neutral protected area for the logo.

3 Agency Descriptions

Developing Agency Information Blocks Department, Division, Program

The System

Developing an agency relationship to the logo is created by a progressive linking in descending order of department, division and program names. The amount of information occurring below the logo is determined by the type of branding required relative to its position in the document i.e., a cover requires department and/or division reference whereas the title page requires a fuller description, including address and phone numbers.

As each new level is added, that level becomes bold, putting the emphasis on the agency providing the service. In addition, more detailed information regarding this agency in the form of an address, phone numbers, email, web site, etc., may be attached just below that entry.

Shown above are the four preferred methods of combining the King County logo with agency descriptions. These four possibilities provide enough flexibility to meet the majority of layout demands. The choice of one option over another usually is dictated by space considerations, layout requirements or the Identity Standards for a particular document.

Adhering to logo clear space measurements relative to the agency type blocks ensures a distinct, readable image. In all four examples, the type blocks are all the same in type size, weight and spacing.

1. Horizontal Logo with Agency Block

This is the preferred version. It allows the horizontal logo to be sized to smaller dimensions than the vertical logo. This arrangement can be used in layouts where horizontal space is not at a premium. It allows the most flexibility in branding of department, division and program, the least space requirement and best aesthetics.

2. Left Aligned Stacked Logo and Agency Block

For use in layouts where vertical space is plentiful. Best used where flush-left alignment dominates the layout.

3. Offset Stacked Logo with Agency Block

Easiest to read and most aesthetic as long as agency information is four or more lines. Not a good choice if three lines or less are used.

4. Centered Logo and Agency Block

This option is used in layouts where symmetry is strong and where horizontal space is limited. The use of this option lends itself to a more traditional display of type.

When branding King County and its various agencies, recognition and readability are very important. Organizing line breaks correctly help agency descriptions to be read quickly and clearly. Some patterns work better than others. Placing the introductory words "Department of" on a separate line, places less emphasis on these support words and helps the department title to be read as a unit and be quickly recognized at a glance.

This method of line organization should be followed whenever describing the department. There may be situations where limited space is a factor and may require an alternate but less desirable random form of line breaking. Spelling out the entire department name on one line is another alternative.

4 Primary Business Communications

King County

- In January of 2002, the King County Identity Program was initiated with the introduction of the revised King County logo and a new style of letterhead, business card, envelope, and notepad. This program was updated in March 2007 with the introduction of the new King County logo, which includes a likeness of its namesake, the Reverend Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.*
- Business Communications Information Sheets to assist in ordering and understanding layout and information changes are available to all employees as an Adobe Acrobat PDF file on the King County Graphic Design and Production Services intranet Web site at <http://www.metrokc.gov/printing>. For additional information, please call 206-205-8550.
 - Please be advised of the Executive Ordinance #ACO-8-16 (AEO) requiring all agencies under the Executive Branch to use King County Graphics and Production Services as the first source for graphic design, printing projects, photography and video production. Projects that cannot be initiated because of scheduling or technical challenges will be reviewed with the customer and an appropriate outside vendor selected.
 - It is recommended that existing letterhead, business cards, envelopes and notepads should be used to depletion before ordering new materials.
 - The present system of ordering letterhead, business cards, envelopes and notepads remains the same. Submit information by including new changes on an old piece of letterhead, notepad, etc., along with the standard Print Services Work Order (form ARMS 100-2-U-1).
 - Information submitted for these new items must meet the criteria and format requirements as described in the Information Sheets.
 - Changes that require departure from these standards must first be reviewed by your agency Public Information Officer (PIO) or graphic standards point person. If still unresolved, these issues will then be reviewed by King County Graphic Design and Production Services at 206-205-8550 and, if needed, by the Office of the King County Executive, communications director, 206-296-4063.

*Although the King County Identity program was initiated by the Executive Office and specifically mandated for the executive branch, its longer term vision is for a uniform acceptance by other branches of King County government. At the time of publication other branches, such as the Assessor's Office and the King County Council, have chosen to begin to comply with this uniform identity. Because of this gradual transition countywide, use of secondary logos and other inconsistencies in application of the guidelines may exist on the business communications of these and other branches.

Note: At times, incorrect use of the King County logo will appear within these guidelines, but is done so only for display, illustrative and educational purposes.

Certain agencies may require additional information beyond what is permitted on the front side of the card. Items such as maps, accessible formats, additional phone numbers, bilingual cards, lists, etc., may be printed on the reverse side of the card, as shown in the examples above.

Graphic items, such as maps incorporating light screens and fine lines, need to be increased in strength and boldness to reproduce well on photocopy equipment.

Note: Printing on the reverse side of business cards will be charged the rate of a double-sided business card.

Logo Sizes for Particular Applications

Logo sizes for printing and general use functions are listed in the schedule above. These suggested sizes are based on readability, space considerations and particular branding requirements occurring in most situations. Some projects may have unique conditions that will require a slightly different size of logo. Following the proportions of logo size relative to agency type size will keep a variation within the bounds of the standards.

Logo/Agency Type Proportions

The examples above show the preferred proportion of the type size relative to the logo size. The font style, size, kerning and leading should be followed closely. The only exception to these parameters occurs in the title blocks of 8-1/2" x 11" maps where space is extremely limited. The font used in this case is Arial with a smaller proportion to the logo.

Report Spines and Plastic Combs

Because of limited space, the King County logo is the only branding element required to be used on spines and comb bindings. Additional agency information is not needed, unless it contributes to the title.

Perfect-bound reports, notebook inserts, plastic combs and other printed applications having a spine should position the logo in the upper or lower 20% of the spine. When using either the stacked or horizontal logo minimum sizes should be followed. Eliminate the logo entirely if smaller than minimum sizes are required.

When using plastic combs be sure to check with your vendor to determine the size of the image area that can be printed on a particular size of comb.

Multi-page and Two Sided Forms- Additional Branding

Some forms have multiple pages and may also be printed on the reverse side as well. It is important to end these longer forms with an identity block additionally branding the agency providing the service. Additional information, such as address, phone number, fax number, etc. allows the customer to conveniently access this agency if necessary.

Printing Requirements

When forms are offset printed, a required image-free area is needed for "gripper," usually about five-sixteenths of an inch high and located at the bottom end or top end of the page. When using other reproduction systems (photocopiers, laser printers, etc.), leave enough space for the image margin required by your type of printer.

Information Accessibility and Design Considerations

Readability, accessibility, and a general user friendly appearance should be paramount considerations in constructing a form. Following are some suggestions to help reduce clutter and improve the overall functioning of a form.

- Use hairlines (.5 pt.) whenever possible.
- Avoid excessive boxing of areas and heavy lines.
- Use a font style and size such as Arial or Helvetica for easier reading.
- Limit the use of italics.
- Leave 3/4" inch margin on both sides to anticipate hole punching when required.
- If screened areas are needed, use a 20% value or less.
- Avoid abbreviations, spell out all words.
- Describe instructions in brief, clear logic.
- Smaller paper sizes should be used when possible, but not at the expense of readability and accessibility.
- All caps and underlining should be avoided. Use boldface type to create emphasis.

Exceptions

Forms that have special requirements such as extremely large amounts of text placed on a small sheet size (a) will have more relaxed guidelines. The required minimal branding for exempted forms is as follows:

- Can eliminate title of form
- No King County logo
- King County plus agency name required
- Form or file number with date
- Minimum margins on four sides of 1/8"

Yes. The subsequent owner(s) will be responsible for paying the capacity charge through the end of the 15-year period.

The seller is responsible for disclosure of the charge to the buyer if the property is subject to a sewer capacity charge.

The Revised Code of Washington, Chapter 35.58 and King County Code 28.84.050 authorizes King County to collect a sewage treatment capacity charge from all properties which connect to sewers in King County's service area after Feb. 1, 1990. When To Use The Logo On Maps

The King County logo should be placed on all map products designed for print use (including maps converted and distributed in PDF format) produced by King County staff except:

- Working maps
- Small locational maps with limited space available that appear in such products as brochures or newsletters. If the KC logo does not appear anywhere else on the product, please add the following text in small print underneath the map "Map courtesy of King County Department of _____".

Logo Color

Map logos should be black on all quality maps.

Map Logo Formats

EMF: Use EMF format only in ArcMap. This is a vector format so it will not add a background color.

EPS: ArcView users with access to postscript printers will have the highest quality results with EPS versions of the logo. ArcMap does not accept this format. Macintosh users who do not need to eventually convert their files to PDF can use this format as well. EPS files are vector and do not add a background color.

TIF: Supported in most map applications such as AutoCAD, ArcView and ArcMap (although may not be the highest quality in each). White background will come in so do not place over a color other than white. Please check logo quality after converting your file to PDF format to make sure the logo remains clear.

How To Use The King County Logo

Place the logo within the legend area, preferably at the bottom right or left corner of the legend area using the size guidelines shown on the previous page.

A clear space 1/8" of an inch on 8-1/2x11" or 11x17" maps, and 3/8" on D (2x3') or E size (3x4') maps should be maintained between the logo and any other element such as a line or text. (Dept. or division names can be closer, as shown page 5.60).

Department name, division and unit name should appear underneath the logo in small size text (no smaller than 6 points), as shown in the map examples on the next page. If space does not permit, only the department name is required.

Special versions of the logo and information on how to insert them in your application have been created for your mapping needs and are available for downloading at: <http://metrokc.gov/printing>

Please see the previous page for guidelines about sizing. If the sizing guidelines don't seem to work in your situation, please call the Graphics Production and Print Services Shop for assistance 206-205-8550.

Do not place the TIFF logo on top of a colored or tinted background. Using an EMF or EPS logo (if your software and hardware support it), will eliminate this problem as well.

Whether you are looking at the logo on screen as a PDF file or on a printout, the logo needs to appear sharp and clear. If not, you may have to try another logo format. closer, as shown page 5.60).

Partner Logos

When other partnership logos must be used (such as cities, organizations or multi jurisdictional group names) they should be sized equal in visual weight to the KC logo and should be either stacked vertically under or over the KC logo, or on the same horizontal line. Unless otherwise directed, the KC logo should have the dominant upper or leftward position. Negotiated legal agreements between partners or sensitive political situations may override these guidelines. See future sections for more information about partnership logo hierarchy.

King County Logo and Agency Branding

Branding requirements for CD/DVD packaging are similar to the same guidelines as those used for brochures with the exception of eliminating branding of the interior panels.

If the name of section, program or a subject title appears on the insert or folder as a title, then the King County logo should appear with the division name in the upper or lower 20% of the front panel.

If the name of the division introduces the title of the insert or folder, then the King County logo should appear with the department name in the upper or lower 20% of the front panel.

If the name of a department introduces the title of the insert or folder, then the King County logo should appear by itself in the upper or lower 20% of the front panel.

Due to limited printing space, interior panels can be exempted from King County branding.

Exempted Logo Display

Metro Transit Division, Public Health – Seattle & King County and King County International Airport/Boeing Field logos follow the same guidelines as above. For detailed information refer to the specific guidelines for these agencies.

3. King County logo

Logo Requirement

- Stacked: 5/8" (min.) or
- Horizontal: 1-3/8" (min.)

1. Nameplate: The name or title of the newsletter. This graphic should be considered in one of two ways; as a piece of artwork or as a text identity.

Artwork: Type and/or decorative elements combined to form the title only (not an identity)

- Cannot be used as a logo or identity for the program or project in other parts of the newsletter or on other publications or visual presentations.
- Cannot be used at small scale.
- Cannot be used as a repeatable design element.
- Must be spelled out in word form when used within blocks of text.

Text Identity: Using an existing Text Identity or newly created Text Identity for the title. See Section 6.0.0

- Can be used as an identity for the program or project in other parts of the newsletter or on other publications or visual presentations.
- Can be used at small scale.
- Can be used as a repeatable design element.
- Must be spelled out in word form when used within blocks of text.

2. Tagline (one line): Introduces or summarizes the purpose or mission of the newsletter. If possible, the name of the initiating agency should be included in this statement. In some instances, the name of the agency may be all that is displayed.

3. King County logo: Two options for placement are available;

- a) The King County logo can appear in the nameplate area (top 20% of page) without agency name or,
- b) The King County logo can appear elsewhere on the front page but must be accompanied by an agency description similarly outlined for Report Covers. See page 5.1.0. A typical location is bottom lower right.

Note: The King County logo can appear in either stacked or horizontal format and in the minimum sizes stated above. Its placement should make good design sense and follow the clearspace and color requirements as outlined on pages 2.0.0 - 2.3.0.

Exempted Logos: Metro Transit Division, King County International Airport and Public Health – Seattle & King County all use officially exempted logos to replace the King County logo. Please refer to the respective sections for detailed information.

Partnership Newsletters: In certain situations, as in WRIA newsletters, protocol dictates that the King County logo should not appear in the nameplate or elsewhere in the newsletter. For other partnership questions please call King County Graphic Design and Production at 206-205-8550.

Interior Pages

Branding Requirement

- King County program or agency mentioned at least once per page

Logo Requirement (optional)

The words "King County" and the "program or agency" are mentioned at least once per page. Choose one option only!

4. King County Agency Reference

The words "King County" and the "program or agency" are mentioned at least once per page. This can be accomplished in one of the following ways:

- in the body of the text or
- in a headline or
- by using a footer or header, eg., "King County Community Organizing Program." or
- displaying a King County logo with the agency once on a two page flat or
- other options, eg., a Publisher's Information Block.

Note: This form of branding is required in the event of reproducing a page out of the context to the rest of the document. In this way King County (and the authoring agency or program) are always represented.

Partnership Newsletters: In certain situations, as in WRIA newsletters, protocol dictates that the King County logo should not appear on the interior pages or elsewhere in the newsletter.

Other Types of Vehicle and Equipment Identification

Vehicles and equipment not specifically referred to in RCW 46.08.065 and including those not used on streets and roads, must show some form of county identification. The following I.D. considerations should be followed:

a. Vehicles and equipment with suitable large flat surfaces should display a reduced I.D. version similar to that used on cars and trucks.

b. Vehicles and equipment with limited areas for display should use the logo, department and division names as separate units and placed wherever readable in the above order of importance.

Decals and Vehicle Colors

Black or dark body color

White or light body color

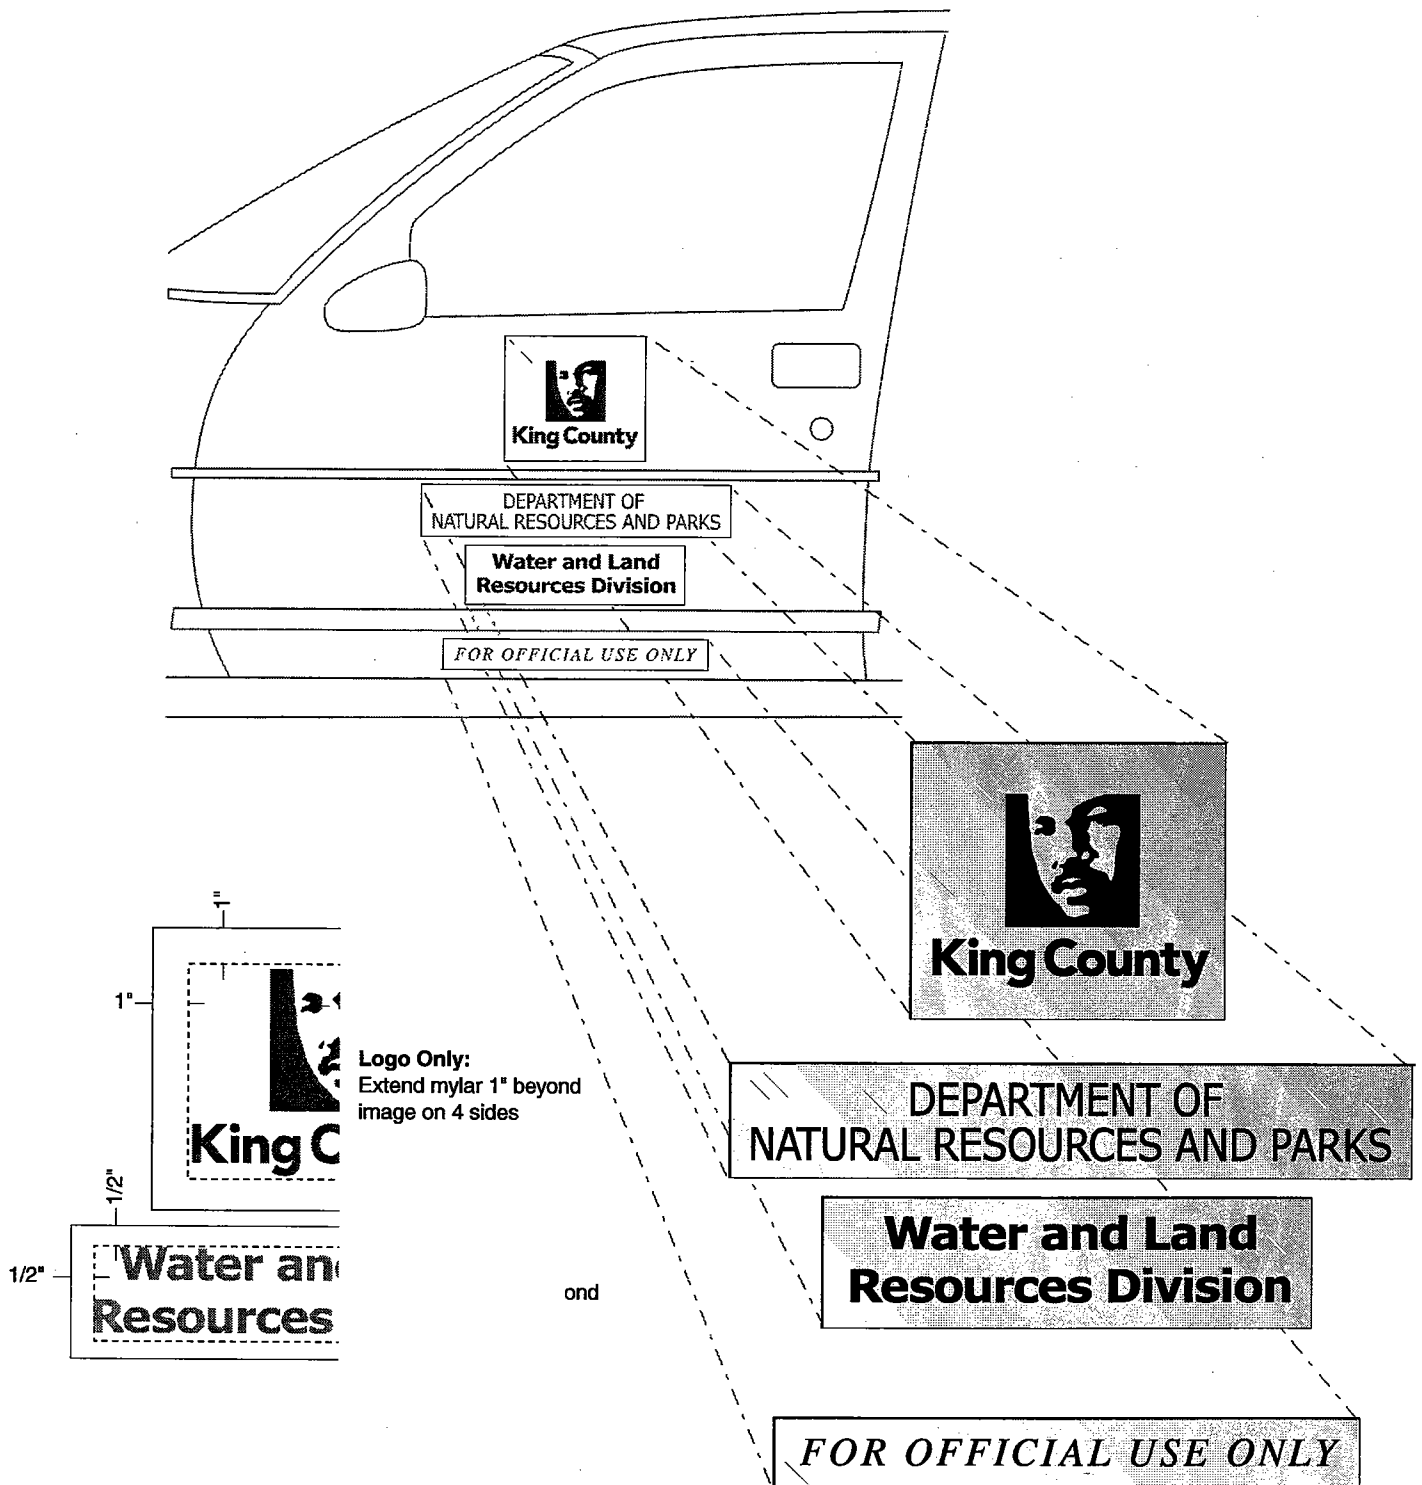

Medium value body color

Decal Colors and Vehicle Colors

Vehicles and equipment identification decals are printed in two varieties; black; and white. Vehicles that are painted darker colors receive white decals for maximum contrast. Conversely, white and lighter colored vehicles would use the black decals for maximum visibility. Vehicles that are painted medium values would receive a black decal unless white is more readable.

Decal Application

Decal Application

King County uses a variety of makes and models of cars and trucks in its motor pools. Usually the front right and left doors provide a large and visually recognizable area for car and truck identification. Ideally, it is desired to have a decal applied in one piece on a flat surface, but the majority of front doors have unique side trim, door moldings, body contours etc., as well as mirrors and handles. To avoid these obstacles and simplify application, decals are applied in sections. It is recommended, when possible, that decals be applied on clear, smooth planes of the door avoiding raised surfaces and recessed areas.

Exempt Agency Decals

Decals for Exempted Logos

The specifications for King County vehicle identification including vehicles displaying exempted logos are determined by the parameters of RCW 46.08.065. Metro Transit Division, Public Health – Seattle & King County and King County International Airport/Boeing Field display officially exempted logos on vehicles to reinforce their particular brand. All other County agencies will use the standard KC logo/agency format.

Additional agency logos, program logos or text identities are not permitted on regular County vehicles. Vehicles used in mass transportation, driver training or by law enforcement agencies for undercover or confidential investigative purposes are exempt from this requirement, ie. Medical Examiner, Emergency Medical Services, Animal Control, King County International Airport Police, etc.

King County Graphics supplies the electronic files of the templates used on all county vehicles. Please call 206-205-8550 for assistance.

- The Seattle-King County Public Health Department logo is one of two logos that are retained under the new standards.
- This logo, as applied to vehicles, follows the standards as closely as possible with logos appearing in black in the same position on both doors and on the rear of the box.
- This PH logo has been modified to fit the purpose of this vehicle by removing the tag line "Healthy People, Healthy Communities".
- The line "FOR OFFICIAL USE ONLY" has been eliminated on both doors.
- The exempted Medical Examiner logo falls within the "Badge and Generic Symbols" group and is located toward the rear of the box on both sides.
- The phrase "Medical Examiner" appears in black and is displayed in large scale on both sides and rear of the box..

What is a Text Identity?

King County Graphic Standards policy dictates that no other logos are to be used. The only exceptions are the exempted logos used for Metro Transit Division, Public Health – Seattle & King County and King County International Airport/ Boeing Field. However, in certain situations, a unique identity can be created with the correct use of type or text in single word or phrase form that works within the bounds of the standards. The King County logo must always accompany this Text Identity and be in close proximity to it. Numerous examples show various arrangements and possibilities of the King County logo (and partners) combined with this Text Identity.

Some Text Identity Situations

Major Annual Celebrations/Special Events

- Martin Luther King Celebration
- Thurgood Marshal Celebration
- Employee Charitable Campaign
- Anniversaries and Commemorations
- 75th Anniversary of King County International Airport
- 20th Anniversary of the Waterfront Streetcar
- 150th Anniversary of King County–Sesquicentennial

Major Programs/Unique Projects

- Brightwater Treatment System
- Construction Works
- King County Fair
- Major Basin Programs
- Metro sub -brands ie, Vanpool, etc.
- Henderson/MLK CSO Project

Parameters for Creating Text-Only Identity

- Color: Text-only identities are to be printed in black only. The addition of a second color is not permitted. The only exemptions are the King County Charitable Campaign and King County Fair. If a publication uses one or more colors (other than black), then the text identity is printed in one of these colors. The same color guidelines used for the King County logo also apply to a Text Identity. (see section 3.0)
- Highly decorative or stylized fonts are to be avoided as well as altering or changing the basic letter shapes of the font.

- Use no more than two font families, preferably one when creating a Text Identity.
- Using different styles within a font family (italics, demi, thin, etc.), mixing cases and sizes, as well as altering letter spacing or line spacing, are ways to create variation.
- Adding of lines, swashes or incorporating other graphical elements (except the King County logo) is to be avoided.
- Tag lines, by-lines and slogans can be added in a smaller font size to increase understanding.
- The King County logo must appear in close proximity to the Text Identity when the logo stands alone or combined with partnerships. (See examples).

Minimum Sizes for King County Logo Attached to Text Identity

- The King County logo when used with Text Identities must not be any smaller than the recommended minimum sizes shown below. The King County logo must always accompany this Text Identity and be in close proximity to it.

Construction Works

Recognizing jobsites that recycle, reduce waste and use recycled products

"Close Proximity" Measurement

Options for Using Text Identities at Small Scale with the King County Logo

- There are many situations where a small scale Text Identity will render the King County logo below the minimum size requirement. To adjust for this, the King County logo may be placed to either side or underneath the smaller scale Text Identity as long as the logo is in its same relative sequence as that viewed in larger format.

Preferred Layouts

Unacceptable Layouts

Text Identity appears in a color other than black

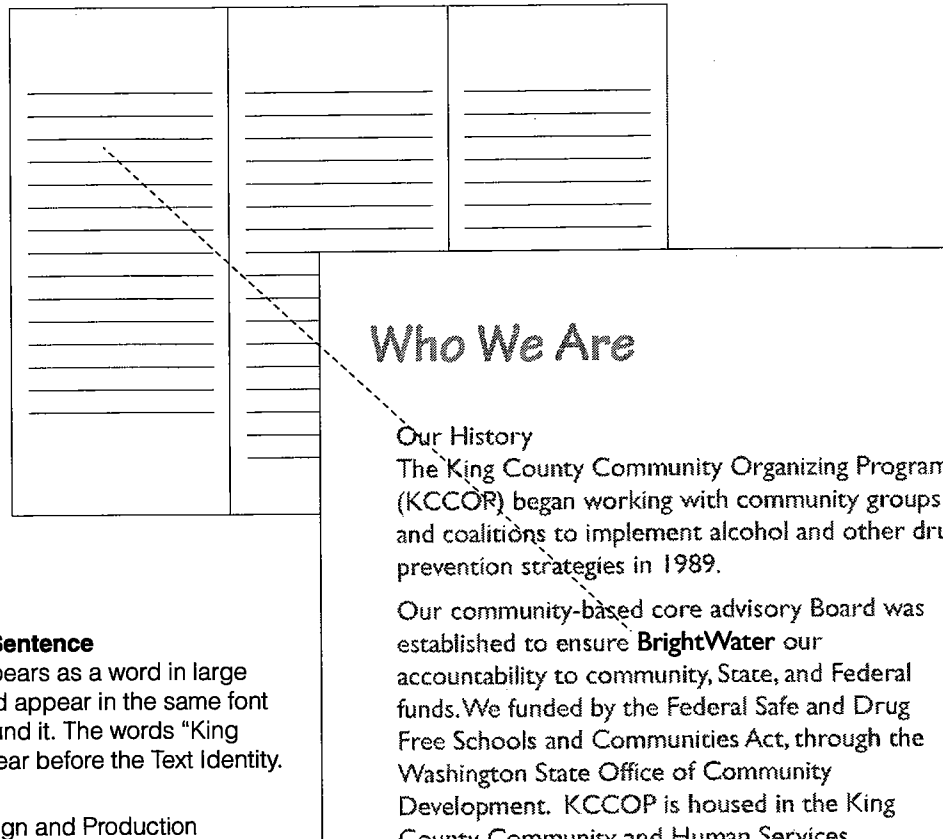

KC logo is not in close proximity

KC logo is not in close proximity

The Text-Identity Used in Body Copy

Text Identity as a Word in a Sentence

When a Text Identity name appears as a word in large areas of copy, the name should appear in the same font family and size as the text around it. The words "King County" does not need to appear before the Text Identity.

Legal Requirements

RCW 46.08.065

The specifications for King County vehicle identification are determined by the parameters of RCW 46.08.065 summarized in Section III-Vehicle Preparation, Markings and Insignia of the Fleet Administration User Guide.

The Fleet Administration Division is responsible for all in-service preparation before the release of vehicles/equipment to agencies. All county vehicles are required by law to have identifying markings. Only vehicles used in mass transportation, driver training or by law enforcement agencies for undercover or confidential investigative purposes are exempt from the requirement.

The law specifies that the insignia shall not be less than six inches in diameter at its smallest dimension.

Immediately below the lettering identifying the public identity shall be the name of the agency operating the vehicle. The agency/ department or division name will appear on both sides of the vehicle in letters one and one quarter inch high. Below the county adopted insignia shall appear the words "for official use only" in letters at least one inch high in a color contrasting with the color of the vehicle. Vehicle operators and agency managers must make sure their respective vehicles remain in compliance with this requirement.

Fleet Administration will install decals, markings and insignia on vehicles before they are released to the respective agencies.

STANDARDS, GUIDELINES
AND
FOR USE OF THE KING COUNTY LOGO

I. Authority

A. Authority and purpose. As approved by Ordinance 2006-0586, these guidelines and graphics standards implement Ordinance 15378, which is codified at K.C.C. chapter 1.36, by providing for the proper use of the official King County symbol and logo ("logo").

II. Guidelines for Official County Use

A. Listed Permitted Uses. The adopted logo portraying the likeness of the Reverend Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. shall be used only for official county purposes.

"Official county purposes" includes, but is not limited to, use of the logo on or in connection with: the King County flag; vehicles; buses; water craft and air craft; letterhead; business cards; envelopes; stationary and notepads; licenses, permits, certificates, business forms and forms required by law, reports, studies, ordinances, motions, regulations, policies and procedures and other official county documents and records; news releases, press kits, mailings, flyers, brochures, posters, calendars and other printed materials; videos and visual displays; uniforms and related accessories, such as coats, hats, badges and patches; identifying signage on buildings, facilities, structures, parks, open spaces, trails and other real property owned, leased or otherwise under the jurisdiction of the county; identifying signage on equipment, goods and other tangible personal property owned or leased by the county; identifying signage for county events, programs or services, and events, programs or services provided in cooperation with third parties; identifying signage on county web pages and web pages of other entities which have county permitted links to the county web site; other county electronic media; apparel made available only to volunteers, county employees and elected officials containing a depiction of the logo, such as hats and shirts; and promotional items offered free of charge to the public, such as mugs, pencils, litter bags, buttons, and stickers.

It is an official county purpose to use the logo to identify King County when the county provides a venue for events held on county property, or when the county is a participating agency in providing a service or program. This may include, but is not necessarily limited to events and services held in connection with other public agencies or non-profit or for-profit entities, provided that the logo shall be used in a manner that focuses not on another party or entity, but on the county's role in the activity as a participant or provider of a county site or facility.

B. Other Official County Purposes. Use of the logo for any purpose not specifically listed above shall require prior written authorization from the King County Executive.

C. Prohibited Uses. Unless otherwise authorized by the entity designated by the estate of the Reverend Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. to manage the intellectual property rights held by estate, no county employee, elected official, department or administrative office shall have the authority to use or permit a contractor or other entity to use the logo:

1. For purposes of fundraising or solicitation of donations other than the employee charitable campaign authorized under K.C.C. chapter 3.36 or solicitation of donations to King County; or
2. To advertise or promote for-profit commercial events or for-profit commercial services, goods or merchandise.

Generally, District Court has not used the King County logo. The Court's letterhead, business cards, and forms do not include a logo. Some of the courthouses do, however, have signs at the entrances of their parking lots that have the crown logo on them. In Shoreline there are additional signs on the front doors and in Issaquah the crown logo is built into the facade of the building. Because these are building issues, the Court believes that Facilities is the best agency to determine the replacement schedule.

Superior Court does not use the King County logo. A Superior Court logo is used instead. None of the Superior Court stationary (letterhead, envelopes, business cards) has a consistent look. Each judge and commissioner is given the opportunity to make their stationary appear how they want it. Any publications created by Superior Court uses the Superior Court logo as well.

Public Health plans to implement the new logo (pending final decision on logo block) as soon as it is available for all new Public Health documents, including reports, promotional items, fact sheets, letterhead, brochures, business cards, newsletters, reports, flyers, and certificates/awards. Commonly-used electronic templates, including letterheads, fax cover sheets, and fact sheets will be converted over the course of 2007. Existing printed materials will be converted over the course of 2007 and 2008, as supplies are exhausted or updated.

Once the new logo and revised guidelines have been established, Public Health staff will be provided with new resources and guidance for converting existing documents used within their programs.

The implementation approach of the Fleet Administration Division will replace exterior vehicle logos (decals) using the five-year cost estimate submitted to council in order to minimize costs. Vehicle exterior logos (decals) will be replaced on vehicles using their normal replacement schedule. Vehicles to be replaced after 2011, will have their logo decals replaced within this five-year phase in period.

King County International Airport's implementation will initially focus on the essential ARFF public safety required changes. Additionally in 2007, KCIA will implement some additional logo changes on signage and equipment with public exposure. During 2008-2011, KCIA will implement logo updates on other equipment during scheduled equipment maintenance.

The Metro Transit Division projected implementation for the next five years will concentrate on transit fleet, operator uniforms, signage, printed information and metro online. It is also projected that Transit revenue and non-revenue vehicles, uniforms and signage will take longer than the 5-year timeframe due to Transit's lengthy schedule for replacement and/or upgrades.

Metro Transit's signage system is currently replaced only if damaged or if there are changes to the information. However, if the proposal to update Metro's signage system is approved, then a majority of the customer signage will be updated within the 5-year period. As for uniforms, operators receive an annual allowance to purchase approved clothing items, and can own from 10-20 items each. While it's conceivable that over a 5-year period many items will be replaced due to wear, there still are certain items such as jackets or sweaters that could last much longer and would continue to be in the public eye after the five year transition period. It is estimated that around 10% of the total items purchased prior to the logo implementation may still be out there after 5 years.

The Road Services Division is concentrating on a three year implementation plan focusing on public and facility signage. In addition, replacement safety equipment used by Road Maintenance staff that displays the King County logo, will be phased over the next three years, but could be replaced sooner due to wear and tear on the items.

KING COUNTY, WASHINGTON New County Logo Phase-In Schedule

Department: OIRM
Prepared by: Sabra Schneider
Title:
Date: 12/20/2006

This document outlines the plans OIRM is making for implementing the new logo on the King County web site, online applications, business cards, letterhead, forms, signs and additional materials with the current crown. Most printed items will be replaced either on their standard replacement cycle, or phased-in over a period of one to five years as new documents are ordered.

Project scope:

In scope:

- The scope is limited to logo changes for the following:
 - The enterprise-wide banner for all sites that OIRM manages or maintains on the Internet
 - The enterprise-wide banner for all sites that OIRM manages or maintains on the Intranet
 - Online applications that OIRM manages or maintains
 - Forms that OIRM prints or designs
 - Mainframe print templates that OIRM maintains
 - Signs, brochures and design work performed by the Print Shop of OIRM
 - Business card and letterhead for OIRM employees
- Development of external (Internet) web site regarding the new logo
- Development of internal (intranet) web site regarding implementation and use of the new logo
- Assisting agencies as OIRM staffing resources permit
- Electronic templates for news releases and forms

Out of scope:

- The following items are not included in the logo project and are considered out of scope for OIRM:
 - Printed materials, signs, uniforms etc. developed and produced outside of the OIRM Print Shop.
 - Already published web sites, Microsoft Word, PDF, Excel, PowerPoint etc. documents that contain the retired logo. Such documents may reside in many places such as: Web, file servers, and on individual work stations.
 - Web sites managed by agencies, departments, divisions including DES, DOT, DNR, Health, Council, Sheriff, Courts, and other agencies except the OIRM maintained banner
- ### Timelines and Tasks

Below is an overview of tasks and timelines for OIRM staff that will help to ensure a successful launch and implementation of the new logo.

Upon council approval:

- Pending council approval of the new logo, OIRM will be prepared with the following:
 - New public website about the logo outlining the history, providing background, interviews, press information and a timeline of the process.
 - New FAQ on the county intranet with information regarding implementation to help county staff
 - Immediate change of many of the crowns that appear in the top bar of King County web sites. We expect to be able to change approximately 60% of the enterprise headers on the day council approves. This will include the home page, top level portal pages, executive site, news sites, and most template-based web sites. It may not include sites with unique designs such as employees and transit
 - Signs to be used at the logo unveiling events
 - Letterhead and business cards will be ready for agencies to order

The rest of 2007, and ongoing:

- Official King County logo use standards and guidelines documents, upon delivery from vendor
- New logo on agency forms as ordered for reprinting
- Change the crown on the enterprise banner throughout the King County Web site and assist agency efforts in updating the logo, as needed and staffing levels permit
- As routine maintenance is completed on Web based applications, including e-commerce applications, the logo will be updated.
- Develop templates for email based news releases for the Executive Office and other agencies that OIRM supports
- Maintain King County logo use standards and guidelines documents
- The OIRM print shop will encourage agencies to replace stationary, business cards and standard county forms with forms containing the new logo as current stock is used and new orders are placed for replenishment
- Replace OIRM signage upon moving to the New County Office Building
- Encourage and assist agencies to complete logo replacement on their Internet sites
- Update the King County Intranet enterprise-wide banner to the new logo on pages maintained by OIRM and encourage agencies to update their pages (emphasis will be on public facing site, initially)
