This is a very hard question to answer because I feel that in every aspect of life, as new information comes in, thoughts, opinions, feelings, actions are adjusted on a continual basis.

6. Why are you interested in serving on the King County Agriculture Commission?

Promote a perspective not often represented on committees dominated by those with a direct financial stake; ie. producers, wholesalers, retailers, etc. More specifically, my 2 years of close contact with the Indochinese Farmers Association and other refugee farmers in the county have made me aware of both the importance of this group in Seattle's farmers markets and the importance of farming as a means of survival for limited English speaking people from rural, farming backgrounds.
