ORDINANCE NO. 10414

AN ORDINANCE approving the City of Redmond's Avondale Basin Sanitary Sewer Study

PREAMBLE:

On November 6, 1990, the City of Redmond made a Determination of Non-significance regarding its Avondale Basin Sanitary Sewer Study.

On June 18, 1991, the Redmond City Council passed Ordinance 1635 adopting the Avondale Basin Sanitary Sewer Study.

On December 4, 1991, the King County Utilities Technical Review Committee considered the study and found that it contained the required elements of a sewer comprehensive plan as specified in King County Code Section 13.24.040 with the exception of certain systemwide information covering areas outside of the Avondale Basin as defined by the Study. Due to the absence of this systemwide information, the UTRC recommended that the Study not be approved as a comprehensive plan.

On April 14, 1992, the King County Executive recommended disapproval of the Avondale Basin Sanitary Sewer Study, but agreed that if the King County Code so allowed, approval of subarea plans may, in some instances, have merit.

The area covered by the Avondale Basin Sanitary Sewer Study comprises a discrete subarea of Redmond's sewer system connecting directly to a METRO interceptor with no intertie to any other portion of the Redmond sewer system.

No service area boundaries are shown in the Avondale Basin Sanitary Sewer Study, but the area described as the Study Area includes properties outside the Sewer Local Service Areas established by the Northshore and Bear Creek Community Plans.

BE IT ORDAINED BY THE COUNCIL OF KING COUNTY:

SECTION 1. The City of Redmond's Avondale Basin Sanitary Sewer Study is hereby approved with the addition of the map of

1 the City of Redmond's sewer service area within unincorporated 2 King County shown in Attachment A attached hereto and 3 incorporated by reference herein.
