Black Diamond Open Space

Area
1100 acres (total)

Total trail length
Approximately 17 miles

Trail uses
Backcountry trail use is the primary recreational activity and includes hiking, horseback riding and mountain biking. These trails are open to all non-motorized uses except for the trails identified as hiking/biking only.

Access
The main access point for Black Diamond Open Space is a gravel parking lot on the east side of SR 169 South of Maple Valley. The parking lot can accommodate cars, trucks and horse trailers.

There is an additional, smaller gravel parking lot on the west side of SR 169 in the same location. The western parking lot can accommodate cars.

King County’s Parks and Recreation Division manages 30,000 acres of parks and natural lands, and provides over 300 miles of trails with year-round accessibility for hiking, mountain biking, trail running and horseback riding. Each trail offers a unique opportunity to walk, run or ride through the quiet beauty of our region’s rich natural heritage. These public recreational assets and protected natural areas enhance our region’s quality of life and preserve this public lands legacy for future generations of King County residents.

Black Diamond Open Space is a 1,100-acre park located between the cities of Maple Valley and Black Diamond in King County. It is a multi-use King County park managed as three geographic units: north, southwest, and southeast. This map brochure covers the north unit, the largest and most publicly used portion of Black Diamond Open Space. The park is forested, with several high-quality bogs and wetlands that provide good habitat for wildlife. The park also has an extensive trail system that has nearly 25 miles of multi-use trails.
